

This Historical Walk was brought to you by the Hellenic Heritage Foundation in collaboration with the HHF Greek Canadian Archives at York University Libraries.

The HHF Greek Canadian Archives has created an infrastructure for the recovery, acquisition, preservation, and accessibility of vital primary source material that documents the experience of Greeks in the Canadian mosaic. It resides at the Clara Thomas Archives & Special Collections at York University.

We also acknowledge the essential support of York University Libraries, which preserve and provide access to unique Hellenic collections.

The Danforth: A Historical Walk Through Toronto's Greektown

Greektown on the Danforth is the heart of the Hellenic Community in Toronto. Aside from the Greek eateries, businesses, parades and festivals, there's a deeper story to be told about how the immigrant experience unfolded on these streets. Learn why so many Greek immigrants settled on the Danforth and about the major events that have taken place in Greektown over the years.
